The University of Sarajevo

The University of Sarajevo is a public university located in Sarajevo, Bosnia and Herzegovina. It is the largest and oldest university in the country, tracing its initial origins to 1537 as an Islamic madrasa.

With 20 faculties, three academies and three faculties of theology and with 30,866 enrolled students as of 2014, it ranks among the largest universities in the Balkans in terms of enrollment. Since opening its doors in 1949, a total of 122,000 students received bachelor's degrees, 3,891 received master's degrees and 2,284 received doctorate degrees in 45 different fields. It is now widely regarded as the most prestigious university in Bosnia and Herzegovina, and employs more than one thousand faculty members.

The Faculty of Dental Medicine with Clinics, University of Sarajevo, was founded in 1960 as a Department at the Faculty of Medicine. Since 1974 it has been as an independent organizational unit that occupies an important position in the national and international higher education system. The Faculty is equipped with 125 new dental chairs, where the teaching process and clinical work takes place, new IT equipment, a renovated and redesigned amphitheatre, and new 4K technology introduced in the teaching process. The teaching process is further enhanced with the most up-to-date equipment: two 3D CBCT diagnostic devices, CAD & CAM technology and dental 3D printers, by means of which students are educated on modern achievements in the field.
